Jolie-Pitt Foundation

EIN: 20-5176706

Taxable Year Ending December 31, 2011

Form 990-PF, Part IX-A: Direct Charitable Activities

In 2003, Ms. Angelina Jolie (in conjunction with WildAid) began a project dedicated to the conservation of Cambodia's endangered Cardamom Mountains' northern territory. Formally known as the Maddox Jolie Project and based in Cambodia's rural and impoverished northwest, the initial focus of its conservation work was on the protection of Samlout National Park (Samlout Protected Area). Samlout contains most of the region's biodiversity: forests, freshwater ecosystems, and endangered species. As more resources became available, MJP's operations expanded into other areas such as reforestation, community protected area, park management and integrated rural development (UN Millennium Development Goals). In 2009, the project's assets were transferred from WildAid to the Jolie-Pitt Foundation which continues the project ("MJP") currently.

2011 Accomplishments

Agriculture Achieving food security and nutritional wellbeing has been central to MJP's poverty alleviation program in Samlout. In 2011, MJP created 26 farmer field training schools with 443 farmers in 8 Samlout target villages. Training focused on livestock management (cows, pigs, and chickens), homestead food production (fish and vegetable gardens), fruit trees and crop production. The main upland crops in Samlout are soybeans, maize, sesame, mungbeans, and peanuts.

Conservation and Law Enforcement Law enforcement continues to be one of the main tools used to protect and conserve the natural resources in Samlout. 2011 was a very difficult year in fighting the illegal trade of luxury timber across Cambodia, including Samlout, where several hundred cubic meters of rosewood were illegally cut from the park. Responding to the increase in timber trafficking, MJP's Conservation Wildlife Enforcement Team increased the number of anti-poaching patrols in the park to 696 in 2011. On December 7, 2011, MJP and the District Governor of Samlout co-hosted the first judicial workshop in Samlout District for the purpose of strengthening law enforcement in fighting nature crimes in Samlout, providing opportunities for participants to share their comments on deforestation in Samlout, and clarifying the jurisdictions of the key departments involved in state forest management. Environmental education is an important tool for the conservation of Samlout's natural and historical resources. In 2011, MJP delivered 33 environmental awareness events which reached almost 800 villagers.

Education In 2011, MJP continued to design and implement professional coaching and training to 1 lower secondary school with 148 students and 12 teachers, 5 primary schools with 1,483 students and 42 teachers, 5 kindergarten classes with 146 children and 5 teachers, and for the first time in 2011, 1 early childhood care and development center with 47 children. School programs supported include school gardens and other nutrition projects, school sport clubs, in-class physical education, reading clubs and library enhancement, eco-ranger clubs, computer training, sanitation and hygiene education, and education and training materials such as textbooks.

Healthcare In 2011, MJP continued to provide hands-on interactive training sessions, service improvement, and clinical interventions at two MJP health facilities: Kampong Touk Health Post and Bueng Run Health Centre. The primary focus is to improve the quality of health care services in the region to reduce child mortality and morbidity, improve maternal health, and combat HIV/AIDS, malaria and other diseases. In 2011, Bueng Run Health Centre was awarded best rural health care. center in Battambang province. During 2011, Bueng Run saw 8,029 out-patients and Kampoung Touk Health Post saw 3,322 out-patients.

Natural Resource Management MJP actively supports the protection and management of Samlout Protected Area, a 60,000 hectare tropical forest in northwest Cambodia. Geographically divided between Battambang and Pailin province and sharing a border with Thailand, Samlout is the last intact tropical forest in the northwest. To stop the accelerating deforestation in the areas outside Samlout Protected Area, MJP supported the Forestry Administration in Battambang province in creating Community Forestry schemes in four target communes in Samlout District. During 2009-2010, MJP created 11 community forestry sites with 1,824 villagers living in 13 villages. In 2011, an additional 111 villagers registered to be members. Another important effort is the nursery project which produces tree seedlings for reforestation in the degraded areas outside Samlout Protected Area. In 2011, 8,000 seedlings were produced and distributed to local villagers, CF members and other stakeholders within the area who organized two tree planting days in the community.

Micro-credit MJP understands the importance of business approaches to produce economic and social change. To support and expand the economic participation of low-income households in Samlout, MJP created the Micro-Credit Plus project in 2009. The project provides support to the development of small, family-owned business that will generate additional income to improve household savings. From 2009-2011, MJP worked in 6 target villages and created 21 village-based micro-credit and savings groups with 270 members. In 2011, the groups provided $34,875 in loans to 250 members. The average loan given to each member was $140.

Women Self-Empowerment In June 2010, MJP established this project which focuses on empowering and promoting the rights of women/girls through various vocational skills training and business activities that can improve their socio-economic status in their families and in the greater community. In July 2011, MJP completed construction of the Samlout Women's Prosperity Centre. MJP also re-landscaped the area to create a green space for the local community. The Centre is mainly used as a multifunctional building for community meetings, workshops, vocational skills training, and for other activities or events to promote the well-being of women in the region.

Infrastructure To significantly reduce poverty and achieve the UN Millennium Development Goals, it is vital to make a sustained improvement in developing the region's infrastructure facilities and services, including roads, schools, health facilities, wells, and toilets. Since 2007, MJP has been actively participating in rebuilding Samlout's infrastructure.
